The Human Holograph

Your holographic field is like a hologram of a reflective material that looks different from every viewing point. No two humans on the outside of you will ever experience the same view of you, as they are seeing you from their different perspectives and varying angles of viewpoint in any given moment. Inside, you experience all of it - to a certain extent - but even you see yourself as many different things at once - and, as changeable and evolving.

and what it means is never in front of us.*

Our Dimensional Experience

Law of Vibration . Law of Transmutation . Law of Cause and Effect

- the foundation that aligns manifestation -

I AM

The totality of Who You Are cannot fit in a small space - no matter how hard you try. The totality of all that you Know, all that you have access to, the Gifts you came here to share and the difference you came here to make does not - and cannot - fit into the smallness of your one human mind or your one human body.

DIMENSIONS OF MIND

Your body and physical life is operated by and surrounded in Light, a field of consciousness that is the Mind of thought, energy and momentum. While we live in a three dimensional world of physical experience, your Mind extends far beyond the brain in your head.

With minimal capacity for storage and use in the human brain and body, connecting with this larger true nature of you strengthens you with greater capacity of well-being in your physical and non-physical experience. Within this greater connection of you, you will continue to integrate and expand to live the whole life you came here to experience.

PARTNERING IN LIGHT

When you partner with, make friends with, and include the true nature of your light in your day, you live with better clarity, which minimizes confusion and leads to more fulfillment.

In the partnership of you and the greater capacity of You, you'll increase momentum with agility as you attain goals faster, move through growth phases with easier navigation and attune with precision on your path of purpose. You walk through life with confidence and trust in yourself.

CHANGE THE LEGACY

You are a contained holographic system of light and biology. As a single component in the whole of our collective universe, you have the capability of affecting change faster through utilizing the inner light of who you are than through the debris field of human turmoil. Connect within to know the connection- and your role- to anything and anyone. Affect change from there

SHIFT THE PARADIGM

You matter. Your core well-being matters- to your life and to the life of us all. When you strengthen in the true light of who you are and express authentically, you restore well-being to your self. In turn, your well-being expands through our connected communication of light and raises the vibration of well-being in all life you are connected to.

Focus within to change all that is outside of you.

ENGAGING YOUR SELF

As Ruth Evelyn mentors through intuition, her connectivity is to the High Self and all factors working on your behalf to create optimal guidance, attunement, alignments and outcomes for your life of well-being, congruence and authentic joy. The path to achieve what you came here to Have, Be and Do can be clarified, naturally lived daily, and made functionally easy when you work with your own dimensional operating system. Ms. Evelyn has developed these courses to bring you in direct connection with your Self with confidence and trust to manifest your optimal outcomes.

Engaged Quantum Health

*It does not matter the grandeur of our dreams, desires or goals, how strongly we feel we have a greater life or calling,
how deeply we believe or how desperately we want things to change, no system, process or spiritual belief is able to hand us the fullness of our dreams naturally vibrating at high frequencies as long as actions and emotions are vibrating at low frequencies.*

SHIFT YOUR PARADIGM

When you REALLY desire to raise the vibration in your body and life, end repetitive emotional pain and engage the power of your Light's well-being, Engaged Quantum Health is the paradigm shift that helps you make your changes with immediate and life-lasting results.

ENGAGED QUANTUM HEALTH (EQH)

Engaged Quantum Health (EQH) is a structured course of action that thoroughly removes emotional debris and obstruction from the genetic memory of your current and past life experience. This ends the necessity for soul-life retrieval, misconception of self-soul dynamics, and removes the root cause of cyclical habits and behaviors of detriment within yourself and all relationships.

Each step within the EQH process is foundation to the next. Its structure elevates you into a better view of your personal path without the drag of what no longer pertains to you and your steps. You will come to feel, comprehend and understand the steps, path and decisions that- when unclouded by genetic histories- hasten momentum to your personal destination (aka your destiny).

YOUR PATH

The lens through which Ruth Evelyn mentors is highly individual. Each course follows specific steps and protocols that build comprehension and your skillsets. Since no two people have the same experience or path, every mentoring session is customized to you, and is engaged for the purpose of creating ease in understanding, integrating functional tools into your daily life, and increasing the capacity to elevate your life into congruent resonance. Your commitment to yourself is key to your success.

We spend years working at being individual, yet we still arrive at the moment(s) when our gestures, words and reactions are the same- or similar- to our close genetic family members. In reality, the truly unique traits of who you are come from the holographic field that spins in, around and through you every day, all day. You are immersed in this contained field of light - which is your own full spectrum of light. It is You - in expanded vision - encompassing more than the human mind can comprehend. You are light. It is the True Nature of You.

The Lemurian Return

*“To experience the magic that sits beyond sight, one must rise above the low to dance in the worlds of power
the unbelievers will never touch.”*

excerpt Keeper of the Key by Ruth Evelyn

*Law of Vibration . Law of Resonance . Law of Magnetic Force
- the Compelling Nature of Momentum, Manifestation and Flourish -*

LEMURIA

An ancient civilization pre-dating Atlantis, the landmass of Lemuria is now the ocean floor of the Pacific Rim. Surrounded by what is called "The Ring of Fire", there is a 'call' ringing through our Lemurian memory guiding us into our innate way of being. The people of Lemuria naturally lived in a heightened state of evolution. While we often surmise their technologies as far advanced beyond our current capabilities, Lemurians simply accessed the innate empowerment still available to us all - the inner light of our own true nature.

INNATE BEING

We are natural light. We are the electromagnetic field of our human body. When we as light leave our body, the body ceases to operate. We are - as light - the operating system of our entire physical world. Through being ourselves as light, we communicate with our sensory abilities, move or stop the fluidity of flow and comprehend moments where a choice is made in the flash of thought. Light is our true nature, who we are and how we operate with ease. Living through and as ourselves as light is our innate way of being.

RETURN OF MASTERY

The World is prepared and ready for Your Voice and Expression to be integrated into our evolution. We are ready for- and have been expecting- you- to be your authentic imprint, to manifest your dreams with ease and to contribute the essence of you that adds your value to all that is.

YOUR UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

You are a unique expression of vibration and experience like no other. Your exclamation to value and be of value, matters. As your unique expression of vibration condenses into the physical matter of this world, You- your unique authenticity - becomes matter- the physical expression of your vibration- the fundamental tone of how you think of yourself, your beingness, your direction. This is your value, which is value- and valuable- to us all.

When you appreciate the value of your unique expression as the experience you live, you increase in that value- you elevate. When you elevate in knowing, being and expressing your value, your added appreciation elevates our collective humanity. We appreciate- and value- every elevating resonance of your unique expression. You matter.

VALUATION

When you live in appreciation for, and of, your true nature, your innate gifts and the unique skillset you carry within, you add to the collective mix of our human force, source and resource. You are a value-added resource within our humanity. When you discount you- in any manner- you discount value in resonance, flow and fruition. Recognition of the value within, and being the value that you are, increases the resonance of attracting factors within your vibration. You sound and feel- resonate- sweeter, kinder and more at ease to yourself and- through resonance- to others. Ease becomes what and how you matter, become matter and manifest. Effortlessly.

MANIFESTATION

Through Ease- a movement of vibration- a frequency- flow has no objection- or obstacle- to inhibit its momentum. Action to manifest isn't forced. Action manifested in, around and through Ease is a process magnified by the unique expression of fundamental tone within your specific and personal code of the true nature within you. You manifest through knowing, believing and being You- recognized, valued and appreciated- by you- with ease. Ease-y.

*Law of Vibration . Law of Resonance . Law of Magnetic Force
- Effortless Effectiveness -*

NATURAL EASE

When you relax the body you exist in, your mind- the mental experience in the brain in your head- will then relax- and not before. Therefore, establishing ease, well-being and the elevated value of your unique expression of vibration - your fundamental tone - within the body of your physical experience, is the foundation of your innate resource of ease in your relationship- and socially- engaged world. It is natural to you. Ease is innate within you.

LIVING THE MASTERY

Within the natural ease of your innate true nature is the thread of memory reaching back into your experience as an enlightened Being of Lemuria and Atlantis. Within these ancient roots, you know you are skilled beyond our current human capacity. You know the technology we use today is only just beginning to enter into the realm of machinery and equipment you took for granted so very long ago. For us to once again reach the comfort and ease of our once-upon-a-time effectiveness, we must - individually and collectively - remember, re-attune, and re-integrate the internally empowered skills natural to you into our external experience. Your individual mastery of you is You being of service to our dimensional human race.

You are a unique expression of vibration - your fundamental tone - in movement and physical form that holds the memory of your ancient mastery. Coded within you is the specific formula of light frequencies ready to return your current life to the ease of living that your ancient memory holds. Our world is ready for your mastery to return to you. Then, you can share the magnificence of your true nature with our world.

You matter. You are value. Elevate.

THE LEMURIAN RETURN

Our ancient memory remains intact and dormant in the recesses of our subconscious mind. Through the Lemurian Return sessions, you will resurface your innate knowing of living effortlessly, strengthening telepathically and manifesting consciously as you re-engage the ancient alchemical arts of Having, Doing and Being.

MASTERY

Mastering the Arts of Transformation is about becoming wholly skilled in manifesting through influence, sensory perceptions and being the proactive cause to your effects. By mastering these innate skills already within you, your navigation through life is an experience of agreement where paths are paved long before they become your physical circumstance.

EFFORTLESS

In today's world of relationships and commerce, we are challenged with the evolution of great change. The obstacle course of unclear pathways, incongruent schedules and pre-determined algorithms, dictates living re-active rather than pro-active.

To effortlessly progress forward in today's environments, it is essential to unplug from what is untrue for you and plug into what is true for you- the true nature of you- where you connect into the empowerment of your natural instincts, true talents and innate skillsets, creating change at the root of all matter- vibration. You then become the cause of Order to effectively transform what is ineffective into what is optimal for your highest-, best- and swift- outcomes.
